Does Fenqihu have a second Old Street?

Fenqihu Old Street thus developed, but there's actually a second even older old street, fittingly called the Old Old Street(), which I'll introduce in the hiking section below. Fenqihu sits at 1405 meters above sea level.

Should you visit Fenqihu?

Many visitors only come to have a famous bento lunchbox lunch then move on, but I highly recommend spending a night here. Besides some interesting foods, Fenqihu offers the chance to hike in stunning bamboo forests and spot fireflies at night.

Is Fenqihu a good place to visit?

Comparatively, there isn't much star factor at Fenqihu, unless you are taking the vintage train from Chiayi (only once early morning or going down to Chiayi only at 2pm) through Fenqihu to Alishan. You will get a small old town and walking trails which have been left unmanaged.

How long is the train journey to fengqihu?

There is a luggage storage area and more luggage space at seat one. There is only one train per day going up at 9 am and another coming down at 2 pm. Journey is about 2.5 hours. On reaching Fengqihu, we left our luggages at the coin-operated lockers at NT$50 each for three hours. We ate the bento lunch at Fengqihu hotel.

Should you visit Alishan National Park in Fenqihu?

Alishan National Park is considered one of the greatest national wonders in Taiwan and one of Asia's most beautiful national parks. Though theoretically you could explore Alishan and hit all the hotspots in Fenqihu, it would all be quite rushed and have to rely on the notoriously unreliable and infrequent bus routes.

What is the easiest boardwalk trail in Fenqihu?

The Fenqihu Cedar Boardwalk Trail() is an easy boardwalk trail on the west side of Fenqihu. This one is the easiest because it has fewer stairs than the above trails. It is mainly through forest but does have some bamboo, too, just not as much as the previous two trails.
