

Optima battery solar charger

What types of batteries can OPTIMA chargers work with?

The OPTIMA Chargers D200+, Digital 400 and Digital 1200 12V Performance Battery Chargers and Maintainers are all optimized when used with high-performance AGM batteries, but have enhanced charging capabilities that can also be used with all traditional types of 12-volt lead-acid batteries.

What is the Optima battery charger & maintainer?

The Optima Chargers Digital 1200 12V Performance Battery Charger and Maintainer enhances the performance of Optima and other AGM batteries, recovers deeply discharged batteries, and extends battery life.

Do I need an Optima® Charger?

While an OPTIMA charger is not required for ORANGETOP batteries, chargers designed specifically for charging 12-volt lithium batteries should be used. The OPTIMA Chargers D200+, Digital 400, and Digital 1200 are all user-friendly 12V Performance Battery Chargers and Maintainers.

How do I charge my Orange Optima battery?

To charge your Orange Optima battery, first ensure it's fully-charged to 14.0V before use. Use only chargers or profiles for 12V lithium iron phosphate (aka LFP or LiFePO4) batteries. The ORANGETOP battery will automatically wake from Sleep/Storage mode if an OPTIMA® enabled charger is used.

How do OptiMate solar portable chargers work?

OptiMate Solar portable chargers combine the natural advantage of polycrystalline technology with smart solar charge control, making charging of a battery safe and easy. Point the panel in the general direction of the sun and the battery will receive the most optimal charge, no further expertise required!

Will a lead-acid battery charger charge a Optima Redtop battery?

Under normal vehicle-starting applications, most regular automatic lead-acid battery chargers will properly charge an OPTIMA REDTOP battery. The same applies to YELLOWTOP and BLUETOP batteries.
