

Solar battery insurance

Are solar/battery systems covered by home insurance?

Typically, solar/battery systems are covered for the same insurable events as the rest of your home insurance policy. Most natural disaster events, such as storms, lightning, hail, and fire might be claimable. Also theft, vandalism, and public liability.

Does solar insure cover solar panels?

Solar Insure's 30-year monitoring and warranty for solar panel systems covers parts, labor, and roof penetrations. There is also a 20-year battery monitoring and warrant option, including monitoring, parts, repairs, and labor coverage, plus a complete battery replacement if capacity is below 30% between years 11 and 20.

Does solar insure cover battery repairs?

Under Solar Insure's third-party battery warranty and monitoring package, the battery is covered for 20 years for battery repairs, parts, and labor associated with covered repairs. It also covers a complete battery replacement if the capacity falls below 50% between years 11 and 20, which is a pretty sweet deal.

How much does solar insurance cost?

Solar Insure costs roughly $0.10 per watt of solar installed, but the actual price may vary depending on your installer, the equipment used, and the coverage package. For average solar systems in the U.S., you're looking at a cost ranging anywhere between $400 and $1,600 for Solar Insure coverage.

Do I need insurance for my rooftop solar/battery system?

However, you'll most likely need them in the event of a claim. 99% of the time, your rooftop solar/battery system will be insured under the 'home' insurance, not the 'contents' section. Home insurance typically covers the building and permanent fixtures, including any electrical equipment with fixed wiring.

How long does solar insurance last?

There is also a 20-year battery monitoring and warrant option, including monitoring, parts, repairs, and labor coverage, plus a complete battery replacement if capacity is below 30% between years 11 and 20. The biggest benefit of Solar Insure is that you can continue to get coverage even if your solar installer goes out of business.
