Will Zambia increase its solar power capacity by 2030?

The Zambian government has set a target to increase its installed solar and wind capacity to 600 MW by 2030. However, the current installed capacity for solar photovoltaics is only 90 MWp, indicating significant underutilisation of Zambia's potential in the renewable energy sector.

What companies trade in electricity in Zambia?

Private companies also trade in electricity in Zambia. The largest of these, Copperbelt Energy Corporation Plc (CEC), buys electricity primarily from ZESCO and sells it to the various mines in the Copperbelt Province. It also operates its own generators, most of which run on fossil fuels.

What is Zambia's economic policy?

The government's economic policy focused on securing the USD 1.3 billion IMF Extended Credit Facility (ECF) programme and a debt-restructuring agreement with Zambia's various creditors. With the inflation rate at 22% at the end of 2021 and the local currency appreciation, there was still the risk of a balance-of-payments crisis and a debt crisis.

What does the Electricity Act do in Zambia?

The Electricity Act regulates the generation, transmission, distribution and supply of electricity to enhance the security and reliability of electricity supply in Zambia. It codifies the rules on tariff setting and introduces the concept of intermediary power trading, a concept that was missing from the previous regulatory framework.
